Message from the Editor-in-Chief:

It is a matter of great satisfaction that for all of us at BPPIMT to see that the 'BPPIMT-Newsletter' has come into reality and the first issue is being published. Since inception in 1999 with only 240 students and a limited number of faculty members, the institution has grown up having 1300 students on its roll with more than 90 highly qualified faculty members. Our achievements are in true consonance of the mission of our institution: "To create a center of excellence in the field of technical education to cope up with the global scenario".

The activities of the institute have grown to be invaluable in dissemination and of exchange of information to the benefit of all concerned. I wish a steady success and progress of this Newsletter in the years ahead.
